Overview

Who are we?

Bond Solon is the UK's leading expert witness training, certification and information company. Since we were established in 1994, we have been at the forefront of improving the standards of expert witnesses through the provision of high quality training and up-to-date information. Our training provides experts with all the key skills and knowledge required to work effectively and compliantly as an expert witness.

We offer university certificated training programmes for expert witnesses that are widely regarded as the gold standard within the expert witness community and by instructing parties and the courts.

We train individual experts across all professional disciplines and also arrange courses for professional bodies, law enforcement, governmental organisations and commercial businesses of all sizes.

Our trainers are experienced lawyers from a wide array of practice areas and all are professionally trained trainers.

Why is expert witness training required?

The Academy of Medical Royal Colleges' Guidance on Acting as an Expert Witness states that, in addition to having the relevant qualifications, clinical knowledge and experience in their professional field, medical and healthcare expert witnesses:

"...should undertake specific training for being an expert witness and the expectations and responsibilities of the role. And that "Training should be kept up to date with appropriate refresher courses or other activities."

The Guidance goes on to say that expert witnesses should ensure they are able to produce legally compliant reports that are written to the correct standards, can follow the applicable procedural rules and, if necessary, be prepared to give oral evidence under cross-examination.

Expert witness work, as with any professional service, needs to be underpinned by professional training and CPD. In fact, instructing parties generally expect those that they instruct to have received formal training for being an expert witness.

In 2011, expert witnesses lost their immunity from being sued over matters arising in the course of legal proceedings, and in addition to this there are other inherent risks facing expert witnesses who fall short of their duty, including: judicial criticism, court ordered fines and sanctions imposed by professional bodies.

Benefits of undertaking expert witness training with Bond Solon include:

- Helps mitigate risks to the expert witness
- Reassures instructing parties and the courts that the expert is aware of their duties and responsibilities
- Enables compliance with the expert witness training requirements laid out in the Academy of Medical Royal Colleges' Guidance for Expert Witnesses
- Differentiates the expert from others in the same field
- Qualifies experts for discounted professional indemnity premiums for their expert witness work
- Assists expert witnesses in working more efficiently, thereby increasing the amount of work they can perform
- More effectively market expert witness services

When looking to instruct experts, we specifically look for those that have undertaken formal training and accreditation through Bond Solon.

Katie Parr, Royds Withy King

I would urge all experts to receive training from either Bond Solon or a similar organisation. I think you will find it critical that you do so.

Lord Woolf, former Lord Chief Justice and Master of the Rolls

What training should I undertake as an expert witness?

Expert witnesses play a fundamental role within the UK's judicial system by providing opinion-based evidence to assist the courts in reaching decisions. Expert witnesses may be asked to write reports or statements and be called to give evidence in a wide variety of legal forums including: civil, criminal and family courts, tribunals, arbitrations, inquiries and professional conduct hearings. In carrying out this role we recommend experts should undertake, as a minimum, training covering:

- Expert report/statement writing
- Relevant law and procedure
- Discussions with experts/Experts' meetings
- Giving evidence in court

Who should attend training?

Any medical and healthcare professional who is either considering starting work as an expert witness or who has been carrying out the role for some time, needs to ensure they have been appropriately trained to fulfil the role of the expert witness and comply with all their duties and responsibilities. The Academy of Medical Royal Colleges' Guidance for Expert Witnesses doesn't distinguish between experts of differing levels of experience, it recommends all expert witnesses should undertake specific training for being an expert witness and keep their training up to date.

Can these training courses lead to a recognised certificate?

Yes – expert witnesses can work towards achieving one or more of the following university certificates, which are widely regarded as the gold standard within their respective jurisdictions.

For those who act in English and Welsh jurisdiction:

- Cardiff University Bond Solon (CUBS) Civil Expert Witness Certificate
- Cardiff University Bond Solon (CUBS) Criminal Expert Witness Certificate
- Cardiff University Bond Solon (CUBS) Family Expert Witness Certificate

Further details on the CUBS Certificate can be found on page 21.

For those who will act in Scottish jurisdiction:

- University of Aberdeen Bond Solon (UABS) Expert Witness Certificate

Further details on the UABS Certificate can be found on page 22.

Experts are not required to travel to either Cardiff or Aberdeen at any point

Different training options

Public courses are run throughout the year. Each course is delivered to small groups to ensure that there is sufficient time for focused tuition, feedback and questions.

If you have four or more experts interested in a course it may be more convenient and cost effective to run the training in-house for your organisation. In-house courses can either be delivered face-to-face or virtually, and we can tailor the training to the specific learning needs of those attending.

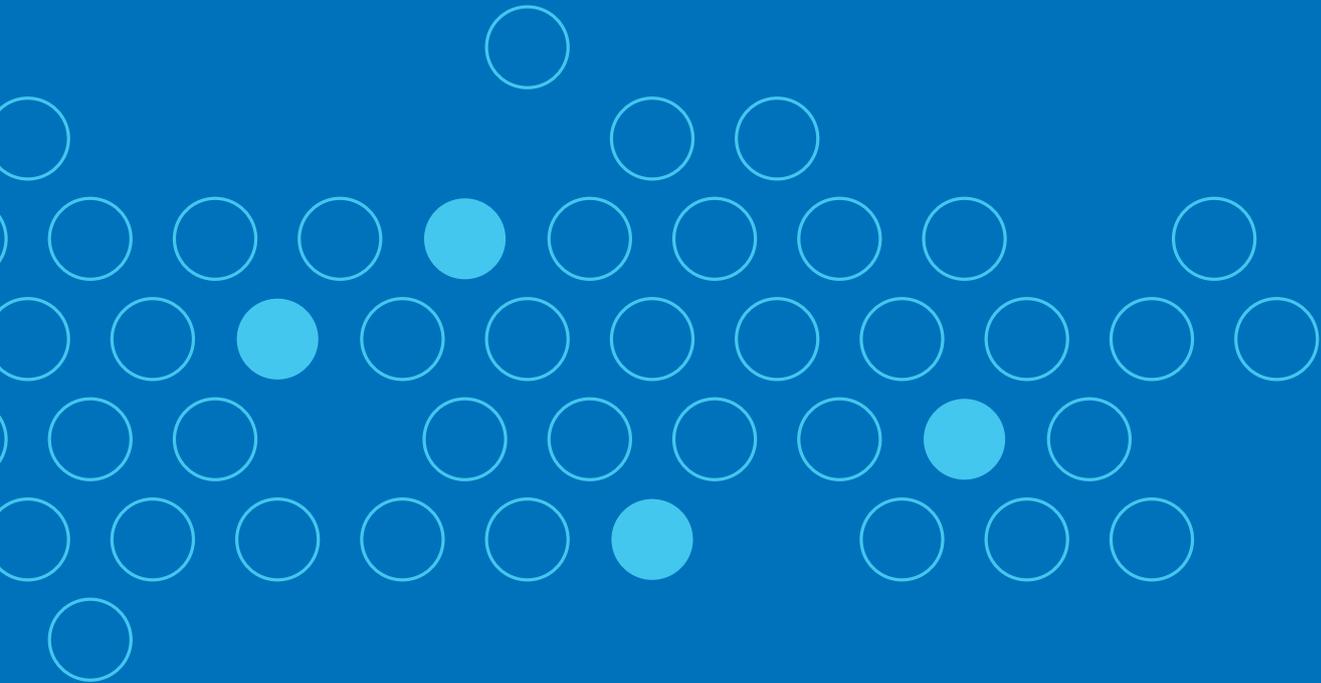

Bond Solon offers various expert witness e-learning products addressing subjects such as GDPR, an Annual Legal Update and Civil Procedure Rules.

We run an Annual Expert Witness Conference each November in Westminster, which is the largest gathering of experts anywhere in the UK.

Experts producing reports should undertake recognised expert witness training. MLP Injury Lawyers will now only instruct an expert who can demonstrate an understanding of the law and the requirements of being an expert. I would be happy to recommend all experts to take Bond Solon training.

The Assessment Process for CUBS and UABS

Each certificate is assessed in three parts, and all three assessments must be successfully completed with a two year period.

Part 1 - assessment of your expert witness report

You can submit your expert witness report at any time during this two-year period. You are required to submit the report in court-ready condition including any photographs, plans etc.

Part 2 - review of your performance under cross-examination

An audio-visual recording of your performance will be made during the Cross-Examination day.

Part 3 - multiple choice examination on law and procedure

A multiple-choice examination is sat at the end of the Law and Procedure course.

Providing a pass is achieved in all three assessments, you will then be awarded the University of Aberdeen Bond Solon (UABS) or Cardiff University Bond Solon (CUBS) Expert Witness Certificate. You will also be provided with the certificate logo and specific wording, which can be used on your marketing material, website and social media. Holders of the certificate can take advantage of discounts for other expert witness services and products with our partners, including: expert witness indemnity insurance, listings in a number of expert witness directories and adverts in the legal press.

Continuing Professional Development

Experts who hold the UABS or CUBS Certificate are expected to keep up-to-date with any developments and changes to ensure their skills and knowledge are current. In order to achieve this, experts are required to undertake six hours of ongoing expert witness training every two years.

National Register of University Certificated Expert Witnesses

The register is an exclusive online list of expert witnesses who have been awarded the widely recognised Cardiff University Bond Solon (CUBS) and/or University of Aberdeen Bond Solon (UABS) Expert Witness Certificates.

Registration is free, but to remain on the register, in addition to having achieved the CUBS and/or UABS Certificates, experts must commit to completing six hours of expert witness continuing professional development every two years.

The main benefit for me has been in 'seeing the medico-legal process from the other side' and in understanding more completely what instructing solicitors want and the language they use. This has also been of great benefit in Barristers conferences.

Frequently asked questions about the Cardiff University and University of Aberdeen Bond Solon Expert Witness Certificates

Q: How long do I have to complete the certificate?

A: All assessments must be passed within two years of the date on which the candidate's first pass is achieved. The period may be extended in exceptional circumstances at the entire discretion of the university board. Due to the nature of the training, we strongly advise you to undertake the training over a period of time (usually 3-6 months) and not in one block.

Q: Do I have to take the training in any particular order?

A: The Excellence in Report Writing, and Courtroom Skills training must precede the Cross Examination Day. We recommend that you allow a gap of at least 2-3 months between the Excellence in Report Writing and the Cross Examination Day, due to pre-course requirements for the Cross-Examination Day. The Law & Procedure course can be undertaken at any stage.

Q: When and where are the courses run?

A: Public courses are held throughout the year in virtual classrooms. Alternatively, if you have a group of four or more colleagues interested in a course it may be more cost-effective to deliver the training in-house. In-house training can be delivered anywhere in the UK.

Q: I have taken expert witness training courses with Bond Solon in the past. Do I get credit for these courses?

A: Please ring Bond Solon on 020 7549 2549 or email us at experwitness@bondsolon.com to ascertain if we will be able to recognise any prior learning toward one of the Certificates.

Q: Are the certificates appropriate for new or more experienced expert witnesses?

A: The certificates are suitable for both new experts and those who have been undertaking this work for many years.

Q: What happens if I fail any of the assessments?

A: You will be able to repeat the relevant days and resubmit any of the assessments, subject to an additional course and marking fee.

Q: I act as an expert in Civil, Criminal and Family proceedings, can I hold more than one Cardiff certificate?

A: Yes. Once you have completed the three core days (Report Writing, Courtroom Skills and Cross-Examination) you are able to complete the relevant Law and Procedure training days to achieve one or more of the certificates.

Q: How do I enrol on the programme?

A: Call Bond Solon on 020 7549 2549 for further information or to enrol.

I am always surprised and in admiration of how Bond Solon bring together such a diverse group of professionals and manage to make the entire day useful and relevant. Many thanks.

Particularly useful were the opportunities to review real cases and get constructive feedback from the trainer. I will have no hesitation to recommend Bond Solon to anyone who should ask in the future.

E-Learning Courses

Introduction to Civil Procedure Rules - England and Wales

✓ 6 hours CPD

 E-learning

£ Cost £195 + VAT

The Courts are increasingly vigilant at ensuring that expert witnesses fully understand and fulfil their duty to the court, and all their obligations under the Civil Procedure Rules. They have taken serious action against those experts who have failed to do so, including criticism in the final judgement, making costs orders against the expert witness and considering ordering imprisonment for contempt of court.

Expert witnesses are required to sign a Statement of Truth, a Declaration that they are aware of Civil Procedure Rule 35, Practice Direction 35 and the Guidance, and a statement that they have complied with their duty to the Court in their reports. If called to give evidence, they could be cross-examined on their understanding of the Rules. Expert Witnesses therefore cannot sign those declarations without reading and fully understanding CPR35, PD35 and the Guidance.

Instructing solicitors also require evidence that expert witnesses have a full understanding of the Rules and know how to comply with them.

To provide experts with the knowledge they require to comply with the Civil Procedure Rules, and to satisfy instructing solicitors and the courts, Bond Solon has developed an interactive e-learning course - Introduction to Civil Procedure Rules (England and Wales).

Key learning points

- 8 modules: (1) Background (2) Overriding objective, the need for expert evidence, overriding duty (3) Instructions, information, orders and directions (4) Reports and written questions (5) The single joint expert (6) Discussions between experts (7) Concurrent expert evidence (8) Sanctions
- Videos, self-study materials and knowledge tests that enable you to evaluate your understanding of the subject
- Certificate of completion for your training records, appraisals and revalidation (if applicable) - upon successful completion of the modules and knowledge tests

This recorded webinar will provide you with a comprehensive overview of the key cases and developments in relation to expert witnesses that have taken place in the past 12 months.

If you are a medical expert witness, by completing the Annual Legal Update for Expert Witnesses, you will be able to demonstrate that you are current and meeting the new expert witness CPD training requirements which were introduced back in May 2019 in "Acting as an expert or professional witness - Guidance for healthcare professionals".

After completing the course, you will receive a CPD Certificate of completion for your training records, appraisals and revalidation (if applicable).

GDPR for Expert Witnesses Toolkit

3 hours CPD

E-learning

Cost £155 + VAT

Under GDPR, which came into force on the 25th May 2018, expert witnesses are now obliged to comply with new rules around the collection and processing of personal data.

In collaboration with top solicitor and subject matter expert Mariel Irvine, Bond Solon has created the GDPR for Expert Witnesses Toolkit. This will:

- Help expert witnesses understand what the General Data Protection Regulations means to them as an expert witness
- Provide them with tools they are most likely to need to comply with the GDPR

This toolkit includes:

1. Videos

- Introduction video - What does GDPR mean for expert witnesses?
- Video lecture series - GDPR in three parts which cover the key requirements of GDPR

2. Templates for documents you will need:

- Contract terms for data processors
- Data breach policy
- Data protection policy
- Data subject request policy
- GDPR contract clauses with solicitors and others who instruct you
- Privacy notice
- Security policy

3. Resources you can refer to:

- ICO Guide to GDPR
- Video lectures - power point slides

4. Knowledge Check

- Knowledge assessment - multi-choice questionnaire to self-check your knowledge

5. Certification

- Certificate of completion

Online Training: available at any time and from any computer via secure login

It is difficult to separate useful and exploitative webinars and courses on GDPR. I suspect that it is quite a money spinner for some companies and is being made to appear highly "frightening" (as you alluded to in the course) and more complex than necessary. Having a reasonably priced option that had straightforward and clear content from Bond Solon was a relief!
